With a penchant for the heavy, and a love of all things technical and progressive, NO MADE SENSE are an epic and brutal tour de force here to bend all the rules.

Hailing from reading in the UK, this three piece share the utmost delight in taking the off kilter riffery and timings of bands such as The Dillinger Escape Plan and Mastodon and mixing it up with the thoughtful instrumentation of the likes of Tool and Cult Of Luna

This long playing two track EP was recorded and mixed at the soon to be legendary WellerHill Studios by Dan Weller and Justin Hill (Sikth), and serves as the perfect taster for what is to come when the full album drops early next year...
